3.2. Distinctive Features of the Programme and the Student Experience

- Student-led – the student will use their own personal work context as a focus for developing ideas about making meaningful, sustainable change to their organisations
- Participatory and Active – the student will enact and engage with the change making process, rather than just direct it
- Focused upon Partnership – taking SDG 17 as its starting point, the power of working together forms a central theme to your work.
- Interdisciplinary – whilst focused upon one aspect of sustainable development, students will be required to reflect upon the holistic nature of that development, covering aspects of environmental, economic, and societal change.
- Flexible to the needs of students - it uses distance learning to nurture independent work, within home communities and organisation, in order to test ideas of sustainable development in geographically familiar contexts.
- Fully supportive of student learning even at distance - it uses MLA College's award-winning Total Learning Package provision for studying at distance, providing support through asynchronous and synchronous delivery of seminars and tutorials.

3.3. Relevant QAA Subject Benchmark Group(s)

Geography (2022)

Earth Sciences, Environmental Sciences, and Environmental Studies (2022)

There are no specific L7 Subject Benchmarks in these areas

3.4. Programme Structure:

The structure of this Top Up is shown in Table 1. The course is PART TIME and at LEVEL 7. The module develops a participatory action research (PAR) approach to addressing a sustainability issue within the student's workplace or community. It begins by a full briefing and development tutorials where PAR and the ideas around its practice are developed and tuned to the needs of the individual student. The majority of the rest of the module focuses upon students attempting to deliver on their proposal, collecting artefacts on the way in order to develop a portfolio of evidence of practice. This is then reflected upon in a final summary

	Relevant experience will be considered on individual merit. Specific reference to APCL and APEL is made below. However, it should be noted that due to the nature of the Programme, students should already be in leadership type roles that allow them to attempt change within their study context, be that work or community. Thus a level of seniority and responsibility is required to successfully complete this work.

This may take the form of a portfolio of evidence of experiential learning. In line with University regulations, the learning derived from experience or study must be identified in order to be assessed. Identification must be made by the student, on the basis of systematic reflection on the experience or study and the provision of clear and evidenced statements about that learning. This will be formally reviewed to determine that the learning has in fact occurred and that it is still current, and equivalence to University credit weightings and levels.

	In the case of students being required to complete a form of assessment it will be governed by The University of Plymouth regulations and serves to demonstrate that they have satisfied the learning outcomes of the module(s) for which credit is claimed.

3.8 Non Standard Regulations

This course is delivered via distance learning and MLA College will apply its approved NSRs (as approved by University of Plymouth 15th June 2021).

3.8.1 48 Hour Extension for Late Submission: the student’s Personal Tutor may approve a 48 hr extension for Distance Learning assessment submission without need for formal Extenuation Circumstances application.

3.8.2 For modules delivered via distance learning - 28 (calendar) day Extenuating Circumstances Extension for Late Submission: in exception to the UoP’s Extenuating Circumstances Policy and Procedures, both self-certified and evidenced applications for Extenuating Circumstances (EC), considered valid by MLA College, will be offered 28 calendar days as an extension to the assessment deadline. Additionally, poor internet connection, where appropriately described as an employment driven issue causing the missing of an assessment deadline (e.g. whilst ‘at sea’), may be considered as a valid extenuating circumstance.

3.8.3 For modules delivered via distance learning, Instant Referrals in the event of Failure or Non-Submission: with or without submission of a valid Extenuating Circumstances claim, may be approved through MLA College’s Interim Assessment and Award Board (IAAB) which then reports to the next scheduled UoP Subject Assessment Panel (SAP) and/or Award Assessment Board (AAB).

3.8.4 Maximum Period of Study: all distance-learning awards that equate to a single level of study or more, including programmes-in-parts, have a maximum period of study of 10 years. Should completion within that timeframe appear unreasonable, UoP regulations for Accreditation of Prior Learning should be considered and followed prior to enrolment onto each part.
